

THE HANDCROSS BOOK AMNESTY

Books are an expensive, vital resource.

Recently, however, we have noticed that our precious book stocks are looking a bit depleted.

We know that books are often borrowed, read then forgotten about before they can be returned to school. That's why we have decided to have a 'no questions asked' book amnesty.

Simply have a good hunt around at home and return all school books. Just give them in to your child's teacher and we will ensure they find their way back to where they need to be, ready for someone else to borrow and enjoy them! Let's all see how many books we can find!

Many thanks for your continued support.
